

Panel 1: Beyond the Treeline

NARRATION: The frontier of the Umbra Woods breathed in a slow, unnatural cadence. Towering bark bled with electric-violet sap, each vein humming a siren song into the suffocating mist. There was no turning back-not now.

DIALOGUE:

LEO: "Roots like lightning, air like poison. Just like the elders warned... Steady now, Leo."

Panel 2: Whispers in the Overgrowth

NARRATION: Below, the abyss yawned wide, choked with spores and the eerie, cold fire of colossal caps. One misplaced claw meant an endless fall into the belly of the glowing dark.

DIALOGUE:

LEO: "Don't look down. Don't look at the drops. Just keep four pads on the wood... and pray the rot holds."

Panel 3: Watchers in the Neon

NARRATION: The forest had stopped humming. In the heavy, dead silence of the upper boughs, the shadows peeled themselves from the bark. Cold, cyan pinpricks flared to life-an ancient jury passing silent judgment.

DIALOGUE:

LEO: (whispering) "I didn't come to desecrate... I only seek the cure. Let me pass."

Panel 4: The Radiant Sanctuary

NARRATION: Brambles tore at fur and flesh until suddenly-air. Immense, silent stone rose like a forgotten crown from the loam, where impossible geometry hung suspended above an altar older than the stars.

DIALOGUE:

LEO: "The Core... It's still burning. The legends didn't lie."

Panel 5: The Heart of Light

NARRATION: Skin and stone met. In an instant, the sacred prism shattered the twilight, drowning centuries of corrupting rot in an incandescent cascade of pure dawn. The forest screamed, broke, and was reborn.

DIALOGUE:

LEO: "Ignite... and wake the world!"